THE PROPOSAL & THE BAY AT NICE

PROSCENIUM's next offering is a double bill under the provocative title: "From Russia - With Love".

The two plays take place in Russia and deal with love and incompatibility - but from highly diverging viewpoints!

The first play, set amongst Russian landowners in the 1880s, is Chekhov's delightful hilarious farce, THE PROPOSAL, and really needs no introduction.

David Hare's thought-provoking play, THE BAY AT NICE, was first performed at the National in 1986, and takes place in Leningrad, 1956. This serious yet humorous play revolves around attempts to authenticate a suspect painting. It's a play about freedom, about choices, about love and art.
